

WAR MADDENED MEN NOT SO NUMEROUS AS TWO YEARS AGO

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, July 19.—The war has not driven mad so many persons as was anticipated in the early stages. Statistics thus far show that the first reports of men going crazy under the infernal fire of modern artillery were exaggerated.

Dr. G. Dumas, who has treated all the cases of mental trouble in one of the French armies, says that his data, covering the first ten months of 1915, agrees with the reports of German doctors concerning madness among combatants.

He finds cases of insanity caused directly or indirectly by the war in France are quite as few in proportion as those in Germany and offers the figures as a refutation of the story of German specialists that the Teutonic race is showing greater nervous resistance than the Latin.

Dr. Dumas' report covers 1188 cases of derangement of which only 3 1/2 per cent were cases of general paralysis, while in most asylums in time of peace the proportion is 15 per cent. This he takes as conclusive evidence that the fatigues and commotions of war have no influence upon the development of this form of insanity.

Optimism of the most exaggerated type is the dominating note in the hallucinations of the paralytics and Dr. Dumas considers it a wonder that officers do not in fits of exaltation give absurd heroic orders that lead to disasters.

In one case a lieutenant who declared to the doctor that he had "cleaned out a German trench with two machine guns that he had carried on his back from a point several miles in the rear" had remained in command of his section until 48 hours before he was examined. A few days later a captain was brought to Dr.

Dumas, fresh from the command of his company, suffering from an equally radical fit of "exaggerated optimism."

The mentally debilitated are largely represented in the statistics. Of 185 cases, 110 were sent to the rear as being permanently unfit for further armed service and 55 who presented symptoms of delirium were interned. Several of these, Dr. Dumas says, owe their mental condition to fatigues and commotions of war and all of them derive the themes of their delirium from their experiences at the front.

There are among them Messiahs come to announce the final victory, messengers designated by Joan of Arc to show the way to success, spiritualists who have acquired occult knowledge of the plans of the enemy.

Alcoholics were numerous in the first month of the war among the deranged soldiers, but have since been remarkably few. In August, 1914, 131 cases were brought to Val de Grace, of which 31 were suffering from alcoholism; in another hospital there were 38 out of 65. Of these 69 cases 18 had delirium tremens and 11 of them died. They were all confirmed drinkers who had exaggerated their propensities during the exciting days of mobilization.

The number diminished rapidly after the first month, not a single case of alcoholism being reported during September from one of the most fortified places and only 162 developing in an entire army during the first ten months of last year. All of the 162 were reservists and insofar as their history could be learned were old drinkers. Nearly all of them resumed their service after taking the milk cure.

The tendency of the alcoholics was to dream of battle and to see Germans everywhere. One of them took

GOLFERS' FOOT LATEST ACHE

BROKEN ARCH AND DISTORTION DUE TO NEGLECT AND EASILY ACQUIRED

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—If you are fretful and your golf has gone off several points and your play is otherwise interfered with, all that's the matter is that you have golfer's foot, according to Dr. Charles Cross, of San Francisco, who has made a study of this newest of occupational diseases.

A detachment of his comrades for the enemy and charged them with fixed bayonet.

The proportion of cases of mental depression among the 1188 was large. There were 224 in ten months—mostly officers with besetting notions of professional shortcomings and difficulties. The majority of these men realized fully about it, though unable to overcome it.

"Golfer's foot," says Dr. Cross, "is an acute condition due to distortion of the foot as a result of broken arch. The affliction is very easily acquired, it is often neglected, and sometimes becomes very troublesome. To add to the discomfort, golfer's foot makes the player fretful and it interferes with play. If neglected the condition is liable to lead to a chain of efficiency reducing ailments, the cause of which may be entirely overlooked. At the beginning of the season, or when beginning to play, all golfers should give their feet special attention and be very careful to keep them in good condition. In playing golf and in practically every other work or play of life foot efficiency is essential."

The Refreshing Charm of good tea is in its delicate flavor

Unfortunately, the world is not full of good tea. You must choose with care. Those many women who use Schilling's Best know that the cost of good tea is very, very little. But this is not the only reason for their preference. Another reason—a very real reason—is that each of the four taste-types (Japan, English Breakfast, Ceylon, Oolong) brews tea of indescribable charm.

Send for the Taste Packet which makes it easy for you to find the type of tea that you like best. Contains four parchment envelopes of Schilling's Tea—Japan, English Breakfast, Ceylon and Oolong. Enough for five or six cups of each kind. Mailed promptly on receipt of 2 cents (stamp or coin). Address: A. Schilling & Company, 333 Second St., San Francisco.

are in progress at Shanghai, and the Peking government hopes to arrange for a more formal conference in that city preparatory to reconvening the north and the south.

China is really divided into three sections politically at the present time. The four southernmost provinces are under the sway of Cantonese leaders. Tsai Ao, who inaugurated the present revolution, is probably the best known leader in the four southernmost provinces, but he has remained constantly in Yunnan province, far west of Canton, and consequently has not participated in the deliberations at Canton.

Central China, or the Yangtze valley country, is practically dominated by the military. Gen. Feng Kuo-chang at Nanking and Gen. Ni Shih-chung are the foremost leaders in that section.
